Executive Summary

Southeast Asia’s beauty and personal care market is projected to reach USD 28.4 billion by 2027, growing at a CAGR of 6.8% driven by rising disposable incomes, digital-native consumer cohorts, and the accelerating influence of social commerce on purchase behaviour. For Lumière Collective, the “Glow Forward” Q2 2025 campaign planning cycle required a comprehensive re-evaluation of audience composition, platform dynamics, and content preferences across all five operating markets.

This report identifies five distinct consumer segments that collectively define Lumière Collective’s addressable market: Gen Z Beauty Enthusiasts, Millennial Self-Care Seekers, Working Professional Premium Buyers, Muslim Beauty Consumers, and Male Grooming Adopters. Across all segments, three structural trends stand out as campaign-defining forces:

TikTok Shop social commerce is fundamentally restructuring the beauty purchase journey in VN, ID, and MY — blurring the line between content discovery and transaction.

Ingredient literacy is rising sharply among the 25-34 cohort, increasing demand for evidence-led influencer content over purely aesthetic posts.

Halal beauty has evolved from a niche to a mainstream category signal across MY, ID, and increasingly SG — presenting a cross-market growth opportunity that Lumière Collective is well-positioned to capture.

Market Overview — SEA Beauty Consumer Landscape

Mar ket	Total Beauty Market Size 2025 Est., USD	YoY Growth	E Commerce Beauty Share	Mobile Commerce Rate
Indonesia	6,800M	8.2%	41%	94%
Thailand	4,200M	5.9%	38%	91%

Malaysia	2,100M	6.1%	35%	89%
Singapore	1,800M	4.2%	52%	88%

Vietnam and Indonesia lead on growth rate and mobile commerce penetration, making them the highest-priority markets for TikTok-first, mobile-native campaign strategies. Singapore, while smallest by market size, has the highest e-commerce beauty share (52%) and the highest average transaction value, making it critical for premium and luxury positioning.

Audience Segmentation

Segment 1: Gen Z Beauty Enthusiasts (18–24)

Attribute	Detail
Size % of TAM	31%
Avg Monthly Beauty Spend	USD 28.55
Platform Preference	TikTok 1st · Instagram 2nd · YouTube 3rd
Preferred Content Formats	Short video 60s , GRWM, challenge/duet, before-and-after
Key Purchase Triggers	Viral content, peer recommendations, discount codes, limited editions
Trust Signals	KOL demo in real skin, UGC, TikTok comment reactions
Top Markets	VN, ID, MY

Gen Z beauty consumers in SEA are platform-native deal hunters who balance aspirational brand awareness with price sensitivity. They are the primary driver of TikTok Shop adoption and show the highest responsiveness to challenge-format content (3.2x higher engagement vs. editorial). Brand discovery is almost exclusively social-first; search and brand websites play a negligible awareness role.

Segment 2: Millennial Self-Care Seekers (25–34)

Attribute	Detail
Size % of TAM	34%
Avg Monthly Beauty Spend	USD 62.140
Platform Preference	Instagram 1st · YouTube 2nd · TikTok 3rd
Preferred Content Formats	Long-form YouTube reviews, Instagram tutorials, “skincare investment” editorial
Key Purchase Triggers	Ingredient transparency, clinical claims, KOL credibility, “worth it” reviews
Trust Signals	Dermatologist endorsement, ingredient deep-dives, before-and-after over 30+ days
Top Markets	TH, SG, VN

Millennials are Lumière Collective’s highest-GMV segment per buyer. They purchase with greater deliberation, conduct multi-platform research, and respond to evidence-based content narratives. YouTube is particularly influential at the consideration and conversion stages for this segment — a 2024 Meta study found that 68% of SEA Millennial beauty buyers watched at least one YouTube review before purchasing a premium skincare product above USD 30. They exhibit the highest brand loyalty of any segment once trust is established.

Segment 3: Working Professionals — Premium Buyers (30–40)

Attribute	Detail
Size % of TAM	18%

Attribute	Detail
Avg Monthly Beauty Spend	USD 120 280
Platform Preference	Instagram 1st · YouTube 2nd · LinkedIn (supplementary)
Preferred Content Formats	Editorial reviews, “daily routine” lifestyle content, long-form tutorials
Key Purchase Triggers	Time-efficiency, clinical efficacy, professional recommendations, brand heritage
Trust Signals	Dermatologist partnerships, clinical trial claims, luxury editorial coverage
Top Markets	SG, TH

This segment drives the highest average order values in the Lumière Collective customer base (USD 38 62 per transaction) and responds strongly to the credibility signals associated with Priya Subramaniam’s content style. They are increasingly interested in “cosmeceutical” positioning (the intersection of cosmetics and clinical efficacy) and have the lowest price sensitivity of any segment. Time scarcity is a key behavioural driver — streamlined purchasing experiences (saved payment, auto-replenishment) significantly reduce churn.

Segment 4: Muslim Beauty Consumers (Halal-focused, Cross-Market)

Attribute	Detail
Size % of TAM	26%
Avg Monthly Beauty Spend	USD 38 80
Platform Preference	TikTok 1st · Instagram 2nd · YouTube 3rd
Preferred Content Formats	Tutorial, “halal check” review format, modest lifestyle GRWM
Key Purchase Triggers	Halal certification visibility, ingredient transparency, modest lifestyle alignment
Trust Signals	JAKIM/MUI certification display, community KOL endorsement, ingredient origin stories
Top Markets	MY (primary) · ID (large scale) · SG (growing)

The Muslim beauty consumer segment is the fastest-growing in Lumière Collective’s addressable market, expanding at an estimated 11.4% CAGR driven by younger Muslim consumers seeking premium, Insta-worthy products that do not compromise on halal compliance. A 2024 Euromonitor analysis estimated that the SEA halal beauty market reached USD 2.8 billion, with Malaysia and Indonesia accounting for 78% of spend. KOL authenticity is paramount — consumers in this segment are highly sensitive to perceived “token” halal endorsements vs. genuine community voices.

Segment 5: Male Grooming Adopters (Emerging Segment)

Attribute	Detail
Size % of TAM	14% (growing)
Avg Monthly Beauty Spend	USD 20 50
Platform Preference	TikTok 1st · YouTube 2nd · Instagram 3rd
Preferred Content Formats	“Honest review” format, before-and-after, quick routine tutorials 3 minutes)
Key Purchase Triggers	Peer normalisation, functional claims (no perfume/no harsh chemicals), value for money
Trust Signals	Male KOL personal testimony, “real skin” unfiltered content, sports/fitness crossover
Top Markets	ID (primary) · VN · MY

Male grooming is the most underdeveloped opportunity in SEA beauty marketing. Stigma around male skincare is eroding rapidly among the 18 30 cohort, driven by K-pop/K-beauty cultural influence and the normalisation of male grooming through lifestyle content. The category is currently underfunded by premium DTC brands relative to its growth trajectory — Lumière Collective has first-mover advantage in this space through the “Clean Ritual Body Care” line and Rizky Aditya’s established audience.

Before-and-after transformation	5th	Gen Z / Male	N/A
Editorial / lifestyle integration	6th	Working Professionals	Gen Z

Content authenticity is the consistent first-ranking trust factor across all segments and markets. “Real skin” (unretouched, unfiltered product usage) outperforms highly edited aesthetic content across all age groups under 35 in Q2 2025 performance data. Transparency signals (reading ingredients on camera, showing packaging, discussing certification) disproportionately influence purchase decisions in the Muslim and Millennial segments.

5.5 / 6.6 / 9.9	All	48 64%	Pan-SEA e-commerce flash sale events
Year-End Holiday Dec	SG, MY	44%	Premium gift sets; year-end self-reward

The 5.5.5 mid-campaign flash sale activation in “Glow Forward” was aligned with the pan-SEA sales event calendar, contributing to a concentrated GMV spike of USD 58,400 in a single 24 hour window 15.6% of total campaign GMV .

Cross-Platform Behavior Analysis

SEA beauty consumers are emphatically multi-platform. A TikTok for Business SEA 2025 study found that 74% of beauty purchase decisions involve content from at least two different platforms. The most common journey patterns observed in Lumière Collective’s Q2 2025 attribution data:

Journey Pattern	Frequency	Markets
TikTok Discovery → TikTok Shop Purchase	34%	VN, ID, MY

Journey Pattern	Frequency	Markets
TikTok Discovery → Brand Website Purchase	18%	All
Instagram Discovery → YouTube Research → Purchase	14%	TH, SG
YouTube Research → Instagram Browsing → Purchase	11%	SG, TH
Facebook Retargeting → Website Purchase	9%	VN, ID
Instagram Discovery → Shopee/Lazada Purchase	8%	ID, MY
Other/Direct	6%	All

The TikTok-to-TikTok Shop pattern (34%) represents the highest single-journey concentration and reflects the effectiveness of the platform’s closed-loop social commerce infrastructure. For Q3 planning, closing the loop on the Instagram Discovery → YouTube Research journey (14%) with a coordinated post-YouTube call-to-action strategy is recommended.

Conversion Funnel Insights

Stage	Avg Drop-off Rate	Key Friction Points	Opportunity
Awareness to Engagement	93.2%	Content relevance, thumb-stop appeal	Stronger hook in first 3 seconds
Engagement to Click	76.8%	Unclear CTA, bio link friction	TikTok Shop in-video CTA
Click to Add-to-Cart	81.3%	Landing page speed, mobile UX	App-first checkout optimisation
Add-to-Cart to Checkout	51.8%	Price hesitation, payment options	Discount code auto-apply
Checkout to Purchase	54.0%	Payment friction, trust deficit	Local payment method expansion
Purchase to Repeat	81.8%	Post-purchase engagement gap	Zalo/LINE nurture sequences

Beauty Category Deep-Dives

Skincare (Hero Category for Lumière Collective)

- SEA Market Size 2025 USD 11.2 billion
- Top Consumer Pain Points: Hyperpigmentation (VN, TH), acne and excess sebum (ID, MY), sensitivity to humid climate, sun damage/SPF compliance gap
- Preferred KOL Content Style: Before-and-after documentation over 4+ weeks; ingredient deep-dives; “I tried X for 30 days” format; dermatologist guest appearances

- Purchase Channel Preference: Brand website/app SG, TH — trust in authenticity); TikTok Shop VN, ID — convenience); Shopee/Lazada MY, ID — price comparison)
- Growth Opportunity: SPF + brightening as a gateway category; consumers who enter via SPF convert to multi-step routine SKUs at 2.4x rate within 6 months

Color Cosmetics

- SEA Market Size 2025 USD 6.8 billion
- Top Consumer Pain Points: Longevity in humid climate, oxidation on darker skin tones, limited shade diversity for South/Southeast Asian skin tones
- Preferred KOL Content Style: GRWM, OOTD integration, color swatch content, “does it transfer?” test formats
- Purchase Channel Preference: TikTok Shop Gen Z impulse), Sephora/Guardian (try- before-buy for premium), online marketplace (value tier)
- Growth Opportunity: “Blush-forward” and glass-skin makeup aesthetics are surging among 18 24 cohort in VN and TH — content-first launch strategy recommended

Halal Beauty

- SEA Market Size 2025 USD 3.1 billion MY ID core; growing in SG
- Top Consumer Pain Points: Difficulty verifying halal status, limited availability of premium certified options, distrust of “halal-washed” brands
- Preferred KOL Content Style: “Halal check” ingredient reviews, certification explainer content, modest GRWM
- Purchase Channel Preference: TikTok Shop MY, ID , Shopee MY , brand website for premium certification assurance
- Growth Opportunity: Premium halal beauty is undersupplied relative to demand. Consumers willing to pay a 15 25% premium for certified-premium products vs. uncertified mass alternatives.

Men’s Grooming

- SEA Market Size 2025 USD 2.4 billion (growing at 12.1% CAGR
- Top Consumer Pain Points: “Too complicated” skincare routines, lack of male-coded branding, price sensitivity, stigma in older age cohorts
- Preferred KOL Content Style: “Simple 3-step routine,” honest review, sports/gym lifestyle integration, “your girlfriend will notice” social proof framing (for 18 24
- Purchase Channel Preference: TikTok Shop 18 24 , marketplace 25 34 value seekers), brand website (premium adopters)

- Growth Opportunity: The 22-30 male cohort in Indonesia and Vietnam is the highest-growth entry segment. Functional minimalism (fewer products, clear results) is the winning content and product strategy.

Business Recommendations for Influencer Marketing

Adopt a segment-first briefing framework — Brief KOLs by audience segment (Gen Z, Millennial, Halal, Male), not just by platform. Minh Châu's Gen Z brief should differ from Nattaya's Millennial brief even when both are posting on the same platform.

Invest in TikTok Shop as primary commerce infrastructure for VN, ID, and MY — The 34% direct TikTok Shop purchase journey, combined with the lowest session-to-purchase drop-off rate, makes TikTok Shop the highest-ROI commerce channel for these markets. Q3 budget should allocate a minimum of 40% to TikTok (up from 38%).

Develop an ingredient transparency content series — Ingredient literacy is rising fastest in the Millennial and Premium segments (TH, SG). A “What’s In It” creator series, led by Priya Subramaniam or Nattaya Siriporn, would capture this demand and strengthen Lumière Collective’s “clean beauty” credibility.

Build a halal beauty sub-brand content strategy — Lumière Collective's existing halal certification is an underutilised asset. A dedicated halal beauty content series with Aisyah Binte Razak and 2-3 additional MY/ID micro-influencers could address the 26% Muslim consumer segment with minimal incremental production cost.

Invest in post-purchase Zalo and LINE nurture — The 18.2% 30-day repurchase rate from “Glow Forward” demonstrates that post-purchase engagement drives meaningful LTV uplift. Scaling Zalo (VN) and LINE (TH) CRM sequences for KOL-attributed customers is the highest-ROI retention investment available.

Explore TikTok Shop Thailand launch — Thailand's TikTok Shop penetration (39%) is growing rapidly. Nattaya Siriporn's Instagram-first Thai audience contains a large TikTok-active cohort that could be activated through a coordinated TikTok Shop launch in Q3.
